THE GREAT REMEDY FOR

Coughs, Colds and Consumptions.

THE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM is unquestionably without a parallel in curing diseases of the Throat and Lungs, and in fact every disease of the Pulmonary organs. Twenty-five years of unexampled success in the treatment of the high degree of confidence which it has established for CONSUMPTIVE COMPLAINTS and DISEASES of the LUNGS, BRONCHIAL and CHEST tubes, have given it a reputation which no other medicine ever attained in this or any other country. Innumerable certificates of its virtues, from all parts of the United States, and from all classes of society, have been received by the proprietors, but the following from Messrs Allen & Co, Merchants of Commerce, is deemed sufficient, as it comes from gentlemen of the highest standing and character, and whose statements may be relied on with confidence.

From Messrs Allen & Co, Merchants of Commerce—"Those persons who have used the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM will freely speak of its valuable and efficacious effects, and from the quantity sold in this section of country, as compared with the numerous other preparations used for similar complaints, we consider it first on the list.

Respectfully &c
ALLEN & CO

The Editor of the Seneca Falls Courier says:—We have had occasion to test the efficacy of Dr Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in our family, and in the case of a young lady who had fallen into a decline, and was by them considered in the last stage of Consumption, and was given over by her physicians, we procured a bottle of this medicine, which was the means of restoring her to health. We have also known it used with the most beneficial results in several other cases of severe pulmonary affections, and we believe it to be an excellent remedy.

A Clergyman from Pittsburgh says he has been in the habit of using the VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM for himself and family for the last six years, and also in his ministerial practice, and considers it the best remedy for all pulmonary complaints.

For the last five years of my practice as a Physician I have found no remedy so reliable, prompt and efficacious in the treatment of Pulmonary Diseases as Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. In Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and other affections of the throat and lungs, I have found it invariably successful in affording immediate relief, and in many cases I can truly say that it has cured when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have frequently prescribed it in my practice, and can say that I have never known it to fail in giving satisfaction to my patients.

Fruit Raising in Maine.

The increased demand for apples, the facility of getting them to market and the teaching of experience as to the best sorts of the different traits to be raised in Maine, have undoubtedly had a influence in causing the people of Maine to engage in a greater extent than formerly in the cultivation of fruit, particularly of apples.

There is much yet to be done both as to quantity and the quality of fruit. In some parts of the State an inferior quality of plum is the chief, hard and stringent, when by a little attention in grafting, the growers could have upon their tables, during the months of August, September and October, the delicious, sweet and elegant plums of the following varieties. Drap d'Or, McLaughlin, Washington, Jefferson, Green Gage, Yellow Gage, Imperial Gage, Bleecker's Gage, Orleans, Favorite, Columbia, Coe's Golden Drop, and others, but the above will give a delicious succession in the ripening season. These choice plums are so very easily grown and come so early into bearing and require so little space that it is greatly to be regretted that every family has not a supply. Fifty cents will purchase a good plum tree of Mr Bennett and it will probably bear fruit the first year and be in full bearing the second. Or if one is in a village where larger trees they may be obtained for twenty-five cents each. The plum we esteem a most valuable fruit for the comfort, gratification and health of the family to be eaten when in perfection and selected from the tree.

The great crop of fruit—the market crop which is raised for profit must be the apple. These can be grown in great perfection in Maine, and it is found that those grown here have excellent keeping qualities and for this reason are preferred by the retailers of fruit. The American Pomological Society have in their publication recommended the following list of apples as worthy of general cultivation throughout the country

American Summer Pearmain,
Bevenstem,
Baldwin,
Boardston Nonsuch,
Buckingham Pippin,
Belle Yellow Bough,
Byers Winter Sweet,
Early Apple,
Early Harvest,
Porter,
Early Strawberry,
Gilpin,
Golden Pippin,
Rhode Island Greening,
Jersey Sweet,
Asbury Russet,
Lardner Rose,
For particular localities,
Baldwin,
Canada Red,
Jefferies,
Hughes Spitzenburg,
Hubbardston Nonsuch,
Jonathan Pippin,
Large Yellow Bough,
Lowell,
Maiden Blush,
Northern Spy,
Pomme Royal,
Rhode Island Greening,
Roxbury Russet,
Sheppard's Sweet,
Smith's Cider,
Swaar,
Talman Sweet,
Tolman Sweet,
Twenty Ounce,
Wagener,
Wine Apple or Haye,
Winter Nelis,
Winter Pearmain,
Winthrop Greening,
Yellow Bell Flower.

The Massachusetts Horticultural Society have expressed its testimony as to the unsurpassed excellence of the Northern Spy apple for general cultivation in that vicinity. This apple must therefore be inferior in Maine. The few specimens which have been grown in this State are of greatly in its favor.

It should be borne in mind by all those who are contemplating new orchards or renovating old ones that there is a large and an increasing demand for the finest and good sweet apples. As an instance of this we have seen recently in this city a two bushel peach paid for handsome sweet apples. In Massachusetts Baldwins were selling for sixty two cents a bushel.

There is no difficulty in procuring trees, and many of the varieties named in the foregoing list. The low rate of postage also renders it very convenient to transmit packages of small trees. The State of Maine possesses many facilities for growing fruits—her people are becoming enlisted in the enterprise—all her wants will soon to be quickened into new life and activity by railroads, and we advise her citizens in whatever profession they may be to plant fruit trees, and her farmers especially to set apples as sure of the means of profit.

☞ The city authorities of Boston on Wednesday last made a call upon Hon. Abbott Lawrence, late Minister to England, to welcome his return home. The Mayor, in a short but eloquent address, expressed the pleasure felt by the community of Boston in witnessing the return of Mr. Lawrence in health from his arduous labors abroad, to assist in the fulfillment and execution of those great enterprises so important to the interests of that city, of which he has been so long the moving spirit. He spoke a few moments, and ended by introducing to every Government.

Mr Lawrence made a very feeling and beautiful reply. He spoke of his first entrance into public life as a member of the City Council—of his regard and affection he entertained for the whole Boston—of its high estimation abroad, particularly in connection with educational matters which were now exciting much attention in Europe—of the deep estimation in which he held his fellow citizens, who had so often honored him with honors, and who now were pleased to hail him so cordially on his return—and of the high regard he placed on the official call of the Government of the city.

☞ Charles Holden, Esq., of the Eastern Argus, is a candidate for Postmaster of Portland. He will make a good officer, and as a change will doubtless be made we think he ought to have it. Political editors never get much as a reward for their services, or as encouragement to labor, and if they don't go in now for a share of the fat, it is their own fault, and if in so doing, they fail is the enterprise it will be the fault of others.

☞ Sewing machines threaten to effect a complete revolution in thread and needle operations.—About five hundred are in operation in this country, and they are ordered faster than they can be made. They are now adapted to sewing boots and shoes.

☞ The National Intelligencer publishes a statement of the final settlement of the Lobos Island difficulty. President Fillmore and Cabinet, after examining various documents and arguments, came to the determination that it was just and proper to withdraw the objections taken by the late Hon. Daniel Webster, regarding the rights of Peru, and accordingly acknowledged unreservedly her sovereignty over the guano Islands on the Peruvian coast. The Peruvian Government is to freight on its own account all vessels which have left the United States for the Islands previous to the 25th of August, and purchase all implements taken out by them vessels to be used in procuring guano. This settles the Lobos question which at one time had a threatening aspect.

THE AMERICAN CHARGE AT LIMA.—Mr Clay, the American Charge at Lima, it is said, having been instrumental in settling the Lobos affair, the American residents in that city have sent a petition to our Government for an increase of his salary and rank, as it is impossible for him to live respectably on $4500 annually.

☞ A correspondence is published in the National Intelligencer, which transpired during the administration of President Polk, between James Buchanan and Romulus Saunders, then Minister at the Court of Madrid, authorizing the latter to offer one hundred millions of dollars for the purchase of Cuba, which offer at that time was promptly declined.

☞ Meyer's Universeum, parts nine and ten, have been received. This is an elegant publication furnishing very beautiful engravings with a text description, so that for sixpence one gets a fine picture and several pages of description, the whole so intrinsically valuable as to deserve universal patronage.

☞ The Skowhegan Clarion says that there will be larger operations in the lumbering business on the Kennebec waters this winter, than for several years past.

☞ A heavy rain set in on Friday night, and continued during the next day. The quantity of rain which fell was large, and there was a high freshet in the river.

☞ Accounts from Newfoundland state that the potato crop there had proved an entire failure and that excellent specimens of copper and silver ore had been discovered on the Island.

☞ A superior ship of 3 000 tons, intended for the packing business, has been purchased at Boston house, to be named the Lick-

☞ The Whig majorities in the Legislature of Massachusetts is eleven. This brings the Old Bay State right side up again.

☞ The terror of being thought poor has ruin of thousands.

MECHANIC ART.—We copy from the Home Journal the following notice of a gentleman who has turned his attention from professional pursuits, and is now successfully engaged in a mechanical business. We hope to hear of more such instances. A liberal education will be found as serviceable for bringing the mechanic arts to a high perfection, as it is in making a good lawyer, professor or physician.

It is to be regretted that so few scientific and educated men devote themselves to the mechanic arts. To some it may seem a mark of literary attainment to employ them in the field of mechanical labor. Not so to us. While we admire an Orpheus who could charm into delighted revery all sentient nature around him when he struck the magic notes of his lyre, shall we not at the same time admire the Apollo who had the genius and skill to produce that lyre? The rapidity of progress and the perfection of the result in every department of the mechanic arts, can be indefinitely increased by the qualifications to which we refer. We have before us a case in point. Twelve years since a gentleman then recently retired from one of the learned professions, devoted himself to the introduction of a more elevated musical literature into the English language than we had previously enjoyed. After years of toil, he produced a translation of one of the largest and profoundest European works on the science of music. That gentleman is now a manufacturer of piano-fortes, and though it is scarcely two years since his commencement, he has already taken a position among the very best manufacturers of the United States. The gentleman referred to is Mr J. F. Warner, of the firm of J. F. Warner & Co., 418 Broadway. As our eye glanced upon the advertisement of this firm in our paper, we were led to the above train of reflections. What splendid improvement in this most admirable and popular musical instruments, as well as in every other artistic production, might be made, if it had more such devotees as the gentleman above alluded to.—N. Y. Enquirer.

M. Kossuth done with Oratory.

From late English files we learn that M. Kossuth and M. Mazzini were the two great stars at a conversazione of the Society of the Friends of Italy. This was the first public meeting Kossuth had attended since his return from America, and his presence created great enthusiasm. He is said to be in fine health and good spirits. In the course of the evening he made a brief speech, in which the leading idea is that the time for talk is past. His address is reported as follows:

"I have risen, but only for the purpose to apologise for not making a speech. There is a time and a season for everything in the world. There is a time and a season to speak, and there is a time and a season to be silent. You England are happy. You may hope to carry all that you may require by the peaceful means of a free word. For us, we can not carry with words, I said therefore, I have taken—in consequence of my duty I have taken—the rule, that for the future I have only a single speech, which is reserved for the due time, and depend upon it to be spoken in due time; and that only speech that I have in future is, "Up boys, and at them!"—Indeed me." This unexpected communication was received with great public astonishment; but the concluding phrase of that sentence produced overwhelming applause. "Until saddell Mr. Kossuth, I have occasion to deliver that speech I will have none else. So am I done with oratory."

The editor of a western paper having lent his ear to one of his subscribers, the borrower unceremoniously broke off the handle. On returning it to the man said, "You can easily get it fixed." "Yes," replied the editor, "but this will cost at least a quarter of a dollar." "Well," rejoined the borrower, "I'll send you a quarter rather small for such a job, but I'll thank you to keep my paper at shop."

Cuba—Worth Considering.

1. The Spanish rulers of Cuba want nothing from us, covet nothing we possess, and only ask of us that we let them alone. They have no conceivable motive for insulting our flag or ill-using our people, but the most obvious and weighty inducements to avoid everything of the kind.

2. Many of our people, on the other hand, notoriously do covet the possession of Cuba.—They mean to wrest it from Spain by fair means or foul. And, in order to ensure the successful the project, they are most anxious to involve our Government in their quarrel. They have every incentive to instigate a broil—every inducement to exaggerate any disrespect which may be shown us or slight put upon us by the Spaniards. They are morally certain to be eager witnesses of any such offense, and to be careful to make the most and the worst of it.

3. Nobody believes that Gov Canedo and his functionaries have any other motive for their repugnance to the free coming and going of Mr. Wm Smith, than their belief that he is an agent and go-between of the Filibusters in and out of Cuba. The Spanish officials mean to hold Cuba for their sovereign and country to the last—can we blame them for this? And have our Filibusters any fair claim to judge authoritatively of the nature and extent of the precautions which those functionaries may justly take against the sleepless exertions made by our adventurers to take the Island from under their feet?

4. The calm judgment of the civilized world will brush away any cobwebs behind which we may seek to hide our National cupidity. If we we get into a row with Spain in the premises the main cause will be that our people want Cuba, and the Spaniards won't peaceably give it up to us. There may be ever so many pretexts, but this will be the real bone of contention.

Americans! Countrymen! there are some things which seem pleasant to do, yet which History must censure and Eternity reprobate. Is not this whole Filibustering crusade among them?—N. Y. Tribune.

The Cuba Difficulty—The Japan Expedition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.

The Cabinet had the Cuba difficulties under long and serious consideration to day. The administration finds itself embarrassed inasmuch as it cannot deal with Cuba except through the Government at Madrid. The ill considered movements of the Captain General, and the lawless spirit manifested by powerful parties in this country, may bring on a war at any time. The President has determined to maintain proper intercourse with the Island at all hazards, enforce and protect our rights, and punish with severity any infringement of the laws on either side, but will take no decided action until he hears from the Spanish Government. The Captain General of Cuba will probably be recalled. The style of Captain Davenport's threat is fully condemned.

The Japanese Expedition will sail in a few days, or as soon as the Princeton is ready. The Naval Engineer has gone down to regulate her boilers.

FEMALE OCCUPATION.—Women in the middle rank are brought up with the idea that if they engage in some occupations, they shall lose their position in society. Suppose it to be so—surely it is wiser to quit a position we can not honestly maintain than to live dependent upon the bounty and caprice of others. better to labor with our hands that to eat the bread of idleness, or submit to feel that we must not give utterance to our real opinions, or express our honest indignation at being required to act a base or unworthy part. And in all cases however situated every female ought to learn how all household affairs are managed, were it only for the purpose of being able to direct others. There cannot be any disgrace in learning how to make the bread we eat, to cook our dinners, to mend our clothes, or even to clean the house. Better to be found busily engaged in removing the dust from the furniture, than to let it accumulate there until a visitor leaves palpable traces where his hat or arm have been laid upon a table.

☞ The latest intelligence from Paris is the following:

"Already the time serving judges and prefects are at their odious task of hunting the jails with parties who are suspected even of opposition to the tyrant and usurper. The slightest pretexts are made use of for arrests, and once in durance, the very name of the republic is sufficient to procure for the unhappy creature an indefinite incarceration. France may remain in quiet, but Europe assuredly can

The Administration and the Crescent City.

From the Washington Republic Nov 17.

There is a manifest determination in certain quarters to misrepresent the action of the Administration in regard to the late Cuba outrages, and to use them as material to strengthen their watering influence throughout the country. The Universal (Ohio) Plain Dealer, for example, has the following editorial in the number last received:

"DISGRACEFUL.—It appears from the dispatches published yesterday in regard to the piratical affair that the insolent demagogue Captain General of Cuba still insists upon his former requisition in regard to Purser Smith and Captain Porter. Captain Davenport, who now has command of the Crescent City, who, after a long parley with the Cuban authorities, was graciously permitted to go on shore on certain restrictions on his late piratical cruise, but refused to avail himself of this permission. His correspondence with the Consul there brought out the important fact viz., that the Spanish Minister at Washington had obtained an assurance from Mr Conrad, the Acting Secretary of State, that neither Captain Porter nor Purser Smith should be permitted to return to the Island. Silence upon such cowardice and pusillanimity. As to Administration that will thus tar forget the rights of our citizens and the honor of our Government, ought to be hurled from power some carcombine."

Washington the same subject, the New Orleans Delta (semi-official) says that arrangements are in progress to give Purser Smith a public dinner on the next fourth of the steamship of July city.

The Plain Dealer's "important fact" was shown in the paper on Monday to be a gratuitous invention of Mr George Law, and to it, therefore, we pay no further attention. But it may be worth while to inquire once again wherein the administration has forgotten the rights of our citizens and the honor of our government," and what distinguished services Purser Smith has rendered to his country that New Orleans should esteem him worthy of a public reception.

The Crescent City affair is wholly undeserving of the importance that has been attached to it, and would never have excited attention if reckless speculators—in power and politics—had not magnified and perverted the facts relating to it. The government of Cuba acted indiscreetly, it is true, and in a manner which could disarm to maintain friendly relations should have studied, but there was nothing in the action of Captain Davenport as related into a reasonable ground of quarrel, still less of war.

What publicist—what man of common sense, dares to assert the right of enacting and enforcing such police regulations as its subjects may deem necessary in the port or within? France, in search of deserters, decrees that certain suspected individuals and classes shall not cross her boundaries, and neither Ledru Rollin nor Louis Blanc questions her right to do so, however little they relish the handship it occasions. When Ireland was in a state of incipient rebellion, England seized and cast into prison American citizens who were suspected of promoting sedition, and though Mr. Bancroft remonstrated against the harshness of the proceeding, construed as our Minister, the then Secretary of State, disputed the right on which it rested. At this moment South Carolina asserts her right to hold in durance colored subjects of British subjects entering Charleston harbor in British vessels; not because they have committed felony but because their color brings them within the range of police provisions which the local authorities hold to be essential to the good order of the city. Ball means South Carolina and Louisiana claim, and enforce the right of imprisoning, and, under certain circumstances, selling—colored citizens of Boston, New York or Philadelphia, sailing as seamen on board of merchant ships of steamers, while they impose heavier fines and penalties on masters of vessels who bring over as passengers colored persons now by France and by States of the Union, only without impropriety be detained by Spain, and the simplest letter in any foreign possessions intact. Do you not admit to establish her colonial possessions intact. Do you not admit to establish her colonial possessions intact. Do you not admit to establish her colonial
